About Supporting Functions

These are foundation level competencies, covering the sector specific knowledge and skills required by professionals working in supporting functions. As such, these are relevant to those working in customer service, marketing, HR or finance, for example. While these individuals will be associated with their own Professional Bodies – following their own competency standards – the subject-matter competencies outlined in the Professional Map will empower them to speak with credibility in the workplace and make better informed decisions.

This section outlines the Supporting Functions competency standards for each of the four professional bands, together with links to relevant CPD learning, qualification units and other learning to help you prioritise and access your skills development.

Supporting functions

Competency standards

- I know the value of personal finance products, their purpose and role in society and understand the circumstances in which they might be needed
- I understand the structure and main activities of the personal finance sector
- I know the differences and the interrelationships between the various roles within the personal finance sector
- I know the difference between different types of financial service, including regulated financial advice versus guidance
- I know the difference between the different types of regulated financial advice: independent, restricted, and execution-only
- I know the common terminology used in personal finance
- I know the personal finance products and services that my organisation offers and how they can meet client requirements
- I know what is meant by professionalism and understand the consequences of ethical and unethical conduct
- I know the content of the CII Code of Ethics and how to apply this in my role
- I know and work within the legal, regulatory and ethical frameworks that govern the financial services profession
- I am aware of my organisation's policies on data protection, complaint handling and conflicts of interest and work within them
- I am aware of my organisation's speak up/whistleblowing policy and procedures and raise concerns when appropriate
- I am aware of and fulfil my supervisory requirements where relevant as outlined by regulation and legislation
